

Coalition for Western Women's History

2021 Armitage-Jameson Prize

Call for Applications

The CWWH is pleased to announce the twelfth annual Armitage-Jameson Prize for the most outstanding monograph or edited volume published in western women's and gender history in 2020. The Prize is named in honor of Susan Armitage and Elizabeth Jameson for their pioneering work in the field of western women's history. To be eligible, the book must be published in 2020 and address women and gender in the North American West, which includes the relevant geographic regions of Canada and Mexico, as well as U.S. territories, past and present. The award recipient will receive $1000 and the publishing press will receive a certificate. The award will be presented at the CWWH Breakfast at the 2021 WHA annual meeting in Portland, OR, October 27-30, 2021. For more information, visit: www.westernwomenshistory.org

Deadline for the 2021 Prize Submission: June 1, 2021

Presses are limited to the nomination of five titles and should send one copy of the nominated book to each member of the committee by June 1, 2021. Books must reach all committee members by the deadline; late submissions will not be considered.
